

MANY LIVES LOST IN A WARREN.

Chinese Steamer Chatter Thru Struck the Rocks and Goes Down.

VANCOUVER, B. C., Sept. 16.—The 2,000-ton China steamer, Chatter, bound from Sydney to China with 81 human beings on board, is lying many fathoms deep off Seal Rock, near Port Stephens lighthouse. Only 36 lives were saved. The terrible details of the catastrophe fill many pages of the Australian papers received here. The following are the names of the drowned:

R. FRAZER.
B. SMITH.
MRS. MATHIAS.
MRS. LORING.
MRS. LORING.
NEIL SHANNON, master.
AL. PRINCE, chief officer.
HAROLD LEFFLER, third officer.
R. HENDERSON, surgeon.
J. H. HARPER, chief engineer.
J. W. ADAMS, third engineer.
A. WOLSTENHOLME, fourth engineer.
R. MAXING, chief steward and 41 Chinese.

The accident was due to currents drifting the steamer on the rocks in the fury and darkness of the storm. Mrs. and Miss Loring were the wife and daughter of the secretary of the Imperial Federation league of Australia, and were well known in San Francisco, having been on their way via China. At the coroner's inquest it was proven that the steamer was being steered all right and that the only way to account for the vessel's striking was that some mysterious current carried her on the rocks.

The cargo of the steamer was very valuable. Among the cargo were 10,000 sovereigns.

EXECUTION OF MINNIE DEAN.

Condemned to Death For the Murder of Infants Entrusted to Her Care.

VANCOUVER, B. C., Sept. 16.—Minnie Dean, who was condemned to death for the murder of infants entrusted to her care, has been executed in Invercargill, Auckland, New Zealand. She protested her innocence up to the last.

Clemency was asked on account of the murder being a woman, but the proof against her was so overwhelming that no mercy was shown. On the scaffold she was hysterical, and had to be almost carried to the drop. Just before the black cap was put on she turned to the executioner and said: "Oh God, let me not suffer." The drop fell and death was instantaneous. The woman prayed incessantly toward the last, but stoutly maintained that she had no murder on her soul and had no doubt that she would go to heaven.

Minnie Dean's crimes were the sensation of last year in New Zealand. In her prosperity she was patronized by well to do scoundrels who paid her handsomely to become responsible for their children. A mother's love, however, induced an erring woman to seek her child who had been delivered to the woman's care.

Minnie Dean had reported it dead from natural causes, but the mother's suspicions were aroused and detectives were employed, when the remains of a number of children were found of ages ranging from a few months to several years, buried in every conceivable place about the premises. The woman was arrested, and after a sensational trial was condemned to death on the evidence of the guilty fathers, who were compelled by the authorities to appear in court to assist the crown. Minnie Dean's defense was that all the children died from natural causes.
